

November Newsletter Supplement.....We have more to tell you!

Got Books?

They are more than just textbooks!

Bring in your used books for store credit. Store Credit is good for up to 50% off of any trade book.

Trade books include: Cookbooks, novels, home & garden, fiction, non-fiction, romance, and Christian books. Excluded textbooks and merchandise.

Brown-Stetson-Sanford House Wartime Holiday

Our newsletter had an error and did not display the date and time for the Brown-Stetson-Sanford House, so we have included it again for all who are interested

When: November 15, 16, & 17
Times: 10am- 4pm
Phone 478.453.1803
Admission: Reservation Required
Visit Website

The Daniel Burrell Stetson family lived in the historic Brown-Stetson-Sanford House during the war between the States, and two Stetson sons joined the Confederate army. The tour will focus on life in the Stetson home at Thanksgiving and Christmastime during the first year of the War Between the

SM

SMALL BUSINESS SATURDAY

NOV 26

FARMERS' MARKET
A MAIN STREET PROJECT
www.milledgevillemarketplace.com

The last day for the Farmers' Market is November 22nd. 3pm-

States. Visit with Mrs. Stetson and her friends sewing uniforms in the Parlor, Lizzie Stetson making candles and soap to send to the Stetson sons, and Mr. Stetson assembling a crate with items going to the war-front along with other activities throughout the house and yard.

6pm. Get your fresh fruits and veggies while you still can.

Deep Roots Thank you!!!

We would like to give a big thanks to everyone that made the Deep Roots Festival possible. We appreciate all you do.

The Arts & Craft Vendors
The Food Vendors
The KidZone Vendors
The Old Capital Car Club of Milledgeville
Volunteers
The Merchants
The City of Milledgeville
The City of Milledgeville Public Works Department
The Deep Roots Committee
The People who came and enjoyed the Festival